STATEMENT OF AUTHORITY

This report provides a summary of complaints received by the Police Accountability Board (PAB), community engagement activity, and policy oversight work conducted during the reporting period.

Pursuant to Rochester City Charter Article XVIII § 18-1, the Police Accountability Board (PAB) serves as an independent office of municipal government responsible for promoting accountability, transparency, and public trust in policing. The PAB reviews and assesses Rochester Police Department (RPD) patterns, practices, policies, and procedures and provides community-informed oversight and policy recommendations.

Due to the court decision dated April 28, 2025, affirmed on March 20, 2026, the PAB's authority to independently investigate individualized allegations of police misconduct, issue subpoenas, and recommend discipline has been invalidated. Despite these legal limitations, the PAB remains committed to receiving and documenting complaints from the public, identifying systemic concerns and trends, advancing policy oversight and reform, and promoting transparency and community engagement.

The PAB accepts reports related to officer conduct, alleged misconduct, and concerns regarding RPD policies, procedures, and practices. Complaints received by the Board are documented and reviewed for potential systemic issues, trends, policy implications, and broader concerns related to public accountability and institutional practices.

In accordance with Article XVIII § 18-11(A), the PAB continues to publish monthly data regarding complaints received by the Board, as well as information related to community engagement, policy oversight activities, and institutional transparency efforts.

Complaint Category

This chart reflects the categories of concerns or allegations reported in complaints received by the Police Accountability Board (PAB) during the reporting period. This data helps the PAB identify recurring trends, systemic concerns, and areas that may warrant further policy review or public education efforts.

Note: a single complaint can be assigned multiple categories, depending on the substance of the associated incident. For example, a complainant may allege both Discourtesy and Use of Force during an interaction with the RPD, as well as recommend a change to RPD policy. In this case, the complaint would be associated with all three categories. As a result, the total number of complaints by category in the table below (24) is greater than the number of complaints received this month (14). POLICY & OVERSIGHT

In April 2026, the Policy & Oversight (P&O) Division continued its work focused on systemic review, policy analysis, public transparency, and community-informed accountability efforts. Consistent with the PAB's current authority and strategic direction, the Division remained focused on identifying broader trends, practices, and policy concerns impacting public trust and policing in the City of Rochester.

During the reporting period, the P&O Division concluded the public input period for the Proposal for Change titled "Policing and Community Surveillance: Your Right to Privacy." The Proposal for Change examines the use of surveillance technologies within the Rochester Police Department, including blue light cameras, drone technologies, and cellular surveillance tools, while also evaluating transparency, privacy, and accountability considerations related to these technologies.

The public engagement process included opportunities for community members to provide feedback through presentations, outreach efforts, and public comment submissions. Community feedback received during the process reflected ongoing concerns related to privacy protections, data retention, public notification, oversight mechanisms, and the broader impact of surveillance technology on community trust.

The Proposal for Change is intended to support informed public discussion and provide policy recommendations designed to strengthen transparency, accountability, and public access to information regarding surveillance technologies and related policing practices. Following Board review and approval, formal recommendations will be transmitted to the Rochester Police Department, the Mayor, and Rochester City Council for consideration.
